

Purdue University CATME System Rights for European Union Residents Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

Residents of the European Union member countries (Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Republic of Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, UK) have these rights under GDPR:

- Access, Rectification and Erasure: ask us for access to, correction or erasure of your data
- Restrict processing (pending correction or deletion)
- Be Informed – collection and use of your data described herein
- Data portability – right to obtain a copy of your record in our database
- Object to communications or direct marketing
- Not to be subjected to a decision based on automated processing (profiling)

At the request of an instructor in an educational institution who create CATME surveys and use the CATME data for educational purposes, we handle all personal data securely and take proactive measures to minimize its use. Those uses are to process a transaction instructors have requested, to carry out our responsibilities under a contract we have with instructors, or to pursue Purdue's legitimate interests, including the research interests, all as disclosed in our policies available through our Legal staff; <https://www.purdue.edu/legalcounsel/>

Some key facts and information about your data protection rights:

- Please contact support@catme.org if you have any concerns or questions about the above information obtained by the CATME system at the request of instructors or you wish to ask us not to process your personal data for particular purposes. Where you have specific requests relating to how we manage your data, we will endeavor to resolve these, but please note that there may be circumstances where we cannot comply with specific requests.
- We will publish on the CATME website, <https://info.catme.org/> any changes we make to this data protection statement and notify you by other communication channels where appropriate.

Notice at point of entry:

CATME uses your personal data in the exercise of our legitimate interests, functions and responsibilities as a research center for a U.S. public research university. This includes specifically collecting information for scientific, historical research, education or statistical purposes. We may share your information with research partners for these same purposes.